Company Profile

Our technologically advanced aseptic processing plant is located in the heart of dairy country in the Finger Lakes Region of New York State. Our new 30,000 square foot facility was designed and constructed in 2003 by our team of engineers to meet all the state and federal requirements for low acid canning and maintain security above and beyond the Bioterrorism Act of 2002. With over 50 years combined experience in the food processing industry, CASP, LLC provides the knowledge and expertise to securely and efficiently meet the growing demand in the United States for aseptically packaged products.
